FOR RAGGI
(Who Only Knows Inside Her Bones)

Upon Receiving Your Letter
The first in two years
I can tell that you are Happy and
It isn't me that wants to strip you of it
But somehow nakedness is demanded
If we are to construct our own clothes

So I had to write you back and tell you
What you know is not consciously
That there are a great many women
Whose skin has fallen off like snake/shed
And we are busy designing while
I wait for your answer

ON ONE DAY, AUG. 18, 1971 the Women's Liberation Center of New York received well over 250 telephone calls from women needing:

- information about the Women's Liberation movement
- lawyers
- doctors - gynocologists, dentists, etc. (Women)
- money
- a place to sleep
- literature about the movement
- apartments
- child care
- demonstration s and activities
- self defense classes
- clothing
- therapy
- someone to talk to or sisterhood

During any week the Women's Abortion Project may schedule over a hundred fifty abortions and answer a countless number of medical and health questions that women may have.

At least 25 women walked in and out of our doors. They came to :

- sit and read
- find out information about the movement
- answer phones
- participate in meetings
- counsel women who need abortions
- pick up literature and posters
- meet a woman
- go to the bathroom
- criticize
- and joke

Thirty letters were answered through the mail. Received were approximately 13 letters, none of which were donations, most of which was requests for literature and assistance.

We have also been known to receive obscene, threatening, hate phone calls from men.

You may come here on any day and find women that will tell you that this place is necessary for the Women's Liberation movement. (That's you and me!)
