Dear Friends,

We have included your organization/publication on our mailing list and we would like to receive regular copies of your publication in exchange.

As an information service, the contents of Caribbean Dialogue are prepared from information contained in papers and publications we receive, in addition to reports sent by groups and organizations. Of course, the more publications we receive from a wide cross-section of groups, the better would be our information service which you are free to use.

If you agree to an exchange relation with us, please put us on your mailing list. We would like to receive any back copies of your publication that you think would be of value to us.
